

NCP-Academy Webinar

„ Building networks & sharing ideas - What an NCP should know about COST!“

Online, 14 May 2019, 2-3pm CEST

Joint event with COST Association

BACKGROUND & CONTENT OF THE EVENT

COST (Cooperation in Science and Technology) is the longest-running European framework supporting transnational cooperation among researchers, engineers and scholars across Europe. Together with Horizon 2020 it is one of the most important pillars of the promotion of research cooperation in Europe and therefore an essential component of the European Research Area (ERA).

Yet again, how much do we really know about the programme & its potential synergies with Horizon 2020?

The COST programme, often being promoted as a pre-portal to Horizon 2020, is worth looking at: Horizon 2020 project applications are often the result of COST Actions, project ideas which are not “ready” for Horizon 2020 can eventually be supported through COST and membership in COST Actions can be a great possibility for young researchers and scientists from widening countries to establish & strengthen their European networks.

As COST is set to be integrated in H-EU under the pillar Sharing Excellence, it is now even more worth our attention.

Have you ever wondered how we could better cooperate with colleagues outside Horizon 2020? How to make use of synergies, provide our clients with a fuller picture on European funding opportunities and explore further collaboration potential with our peers?

Take part in this webinar and get answers to all these questions!!

OUTCOME FOR PARTICIPANTS

Participants will get

- a deeper understanding of the synergies between COST and Horizon 2020,
- empowered to identify potential cooperation opportunities as well as
- an outlook into the future of COST within H-EU.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

The webinar is open to all interested NCPs, who would like to learn more about potential synergies with the COST programme and think outside the „Horizon 2020 box“.

The webinar also welcomes the participation of COST National Coordinators, members of the COST Committee of Senior Officials and basically everyone, who is interested in the complementarities between these two programmes.
